

Abundant Cheap Hotels in London for Muslim Travellers

London, the capital of England, not only welcomes affluent international visitors but also encourages budget travellers to visit London. It does not cost an arm and a leg for budget travellers to travel to London. There are plenty of cheap attractions, cheap shops, and cheap hotels in London. Muslim visitors will also find some top hotels in London offering budget-friendly amenities to tourists. Limited-budget Muslim travellers can enjoy many free and cheap activities in London.

There are many luxury hotels in London offering everything good to their guests, but there are also numerous halal-friendly, cheap hotels in London providing a comfortable environment to Muslim travellers.

Where and How to Find Cheap Hotels in London?

Cheap accommodation in London can be found in the London Borough of Hackney, West London, Central London, Wembley, and Stratford. Budget-friendly Muslim tourists should consider the following when deciding to stay in any cheap hotel in London:

- Halal cuisine is available in the hotel, and halal-certified restaurants are located in nearby areas of the hotel.
- Masjid/Mosques are located within walking distance from the hotel.
- Muslim-friendly staff is available on request.
- The privacy of Muslim women is taken seriously.
- Free or cheap places of interest are not located very far from the hotel.

Free, Cheap, and Exciting Things to Do and See in London?

British Museum (showing works of art from primeval to contemporary times), Natural History Museum (possessing the collection of the biggest, tallest, and rarest animals, besides a dinosaur exhibition), and Queen's House Greenwich (famous for its remarkable art collection) are very good free and cheap sites for Muslim tourists to visit while in London. Richmond Park (the largest Royal Park in London; home to 650 deer) and Hyde Park (home to Serpentine Lake, Speaker's Corner, and Diana, Princess of Wales Memorial Fountain) are also good parks in London for budget travellers to relax and have a good time.

Muslim visitors can also show the stone lions at Trafalgar Square to their children, listen to the ringing of Big Ben with their children, and watch the everyday ceremony, Changing the Guard, outside Buckingham Palace in London.

Cheap Food in London

Cheap food in London can either be purchased from the streets or bought from supermarkets with special meal deals. English people generally like eating sandwiches, fish and chips, pies, trifles, and roasts. Common English food is served in the best hotels in London. Muslim tourists who want to eat good halal food in London should try Chutney Mary, Dishoom, and Zayna (the best halal restaurants in London).